

Congratulations Dan and Lindsay Krauskopf!

2026 Michigan CEC Parents of the Year Winner

Dan and Lindsay Krauskopf exemplify dedication, compassion, and advocacy through their commitment to their three children, two of whom have special needs, and to families throughout their community. They approach challenges with positivity and resilience while advocating for inclusion and celebrating the strengths of all children.

Their impact extends well beyond their home. Dan and Lindsay both coach youth athletics, and Dan participates in Watch D.O.G.S. at their son's elementary school. Each year, their family also brings together friends and loved ones to raise awareness and funds for the Families SCN2A Foundation, a cause especially close to their hearts.

Through their willingness to share their experiences, support others, and advocate for a more inclusive community, Dan and Lindsay have made a meaningful difference in the lives of those around them. Michigan CEC is proud to recognize Dan and Lindsay Krauskopf as our Parents of the Year.
